Headteacher: Mrs J. Neale

Lots of excitement in school this week with the arrival of our swimming pool. I am sure that many of you have seen the gazebo on the school yard and over the last 2 days the pool has been filling up and I am assured that it is now almost full and ready for the children to use. Here is a little peek of what the pool looks like when it is ready to use. As from next Tuesday, the pool will be fully heated and 2 lifeguards will be in attendance at all times. Several staff have also volunteered to go in the water with the children, so that there is a familiar face at all times. I cannot say "thank you" enough times to those staff who are willing to do this. Also a great big "thank you" to Miss Studholme for arranging this.

You should have received a letter giving you information about when your child needs a swimming kit in school, if not please ask your child's class teacher for another copy. In addition to swimming kit, your child will also need a dressing gown or similar to walk across to the pool and also some flip flops or sliders. If they don't have such footwear, your child can wear their PE pumps.

I'm sorry that we cannot hold our Coronation Party on the school yard as originally planned but as always the British weather plays a part in such things. We will be celebrating in school tomorrow afternoon and don't forget the children can come to school dressed in red, white and blue (NO FOOTBALL SHIRTS please). Also our crown competition will be going ahead, several children have already told me they have made their crowns and I can't wait to see them. We will take pictures and post them on Dojo for you to see.

Speaking of the King's Coronation, Year 5 led a lovely assembly this morning, sharing lots of information on the special events that will happen this weekend.

I hope you manage to watch at least some of the ceremony and don't forget that school is closed on Monday 8th May for an extra Bank Holiday.

Speaking of Dojo, I know some of you have been unable to see messages sent out from school and we have contacted Dojo to try and get this sorted out as soon as possible.

Finally, our Year 6 children sit their end of year assessments (SATs) next week and they and Miss Studholme and Mrs McMillan have worked hard getting ready for this.

I am sure you will all join me in wishing our Year 6 children good luck and I know that they will try their very best as the children at RMS always do.

Enjoy the Bank Holiday weekend.

Take care and keep safe.

Thank you for your continued support.
