Welcome back to the final term of this school year. There are quite a lot of events already planned in and at the bottom of the sheet are some dates for things that are happening in the not too distant future.

Of course this half term is very important for our Year 6 children as they prepare to take their end of Key Stage Assessments (SATs), the week beginning 8th May. Everything has been put back one day for SATs week due to the extra Bank Holiday for the King's Coronation.

Speaking of the Coronation, we are hoping to hold a party on the school yard for the whole school and of course parents and carers on the afternoon of Friday 5th May. This will depend on the weather, so lets keep everything crossed for fine weather so that we can come together and celebrate this special event.

Please could I remind you of the need to be patient when collecting children from the yard at the end of the school day. Class teachers or TAs will release your child when they see you waiting in the yard, please do not call for your child to come early or remove them from the line before the class teacher has seen you. By doing this you are causing a safeguarding issue as we need to make sure the children leave school safely. Additionally, one or two parents have been rude to staff when asked to wait for their child, this will not be tolerated, staff are only doing their job to keep your child safe. If someone different is collecting your child from school, you MUST let the school office know about this beforehand so that teachers and TAs are prepared for this.

Dates for your diary.

- * Friday 21st April—Sue Allonby visit to school (NO Stars of the Week Assembly)
- * Friday 28th April—Open afternoon 1.45pm—3.00pm, come and see what your child is doing in school
- * Friday 5th May—Coronation party on the school yard 2.00pm, weather permitting
- * Monday 8th May—extra Bank Holiday (something special arriving at school)
- * Tuesday 16th May—Minibeast Man visit for some classes
- * Friday 26th May—Outdoor Learning Day and finish for half term (normal time)

Take care and keep safe.

Thank you for your continued support.

Mrs Neale
